2022 PROGRAM

Veins & All that Jazz

Congress Chair:
Christopher Pittman, MD, FAVLS, FACR

The 2022 AVLS 36th Annual Congress is a celebration of the advances in venous and lymphatic education. Attendees will experience Congress in-person in New Orleans or virtually via livestream and on-demand access. Congress will conclude with the Venous and Lymphatic Village, a hands-on, in-person, educational opportunity for exhibitors and attendees to interact and learn.

VENOUS & LYMPHATIC VILLAGE

Sunday, October 16, 2022 • 9:00 AM - 12:00 PM

The Venous & Lymphatic Village is an opportunity to educate Annual Congress attendees on the science and best practices of your products and services. Originally launched in 2018, the Village provides a space for attendees to engage with exhibitors with a hands-on, educational focus. Attending the village is not eligible for CME.

Application Process:

A limited number of spaces are available in the Village. The application is available in the Exhibitor Portal. Companies must be a 2022 Exhibitor to participate in the Village.

The application for a spot in the village includes the following questions:

1. What are your learning objectives for attendees?
2. Who will be the scientific or educational faculty at your station?
3. What will attendees experience at your station?

Applications for the Venous & Lymphatic Village will be reviewed by the 2022 Annual Congress Program Planning Committee.
